WITH SINGS[®]

Music is the way our memories sing to us across time

1. WHY S!NGS LIVE?

S!NGS breaks every music agency stereotype. Our choirs are modern, dynamic and diverse (no chiffon scarves in sight, we promise). The music groups we represent are professional, reliable and offer something different.

Good music - Brooke takes immense pride in her ability to pick the perfect song for any occasion. An expert in selecting music for any situation, she can be trusted to match the music to the vibe that you are after.

Top quality musicians - All of our musicians have been selected by the S!NGS team and are experienced and confident performers. They understand the importance of performing to an excellent standard and are hardworking and conscientious.

Professionalism - Groups represented by S!NGS have been trained in performance etiquette and are experienced in performing in settings of all kinds. We can guarantee absolute professionalism throughout our part in your event.

Peace of mind - We will keep in touch with you throughout the lead up to your event and can be contacted at any time with concerns or questions. Brooke will be on hand to offer advice on the music throughout the run up to your event. We are a small business and take pride in putting our clients at the heart of what we do.

2. MEET THE TEAM

Everyone involved in running S!NGS Live is passionate about music and has a wealth of experience in events as a performer, director or organiser.

BROOKE PEVERELL

Director and Musical Director of S!NGS Chorus

Brooke founded her first choir in 2017 and has been working as a professional musician, vocal coach and choir leader for over 8 years. She is responsible for the day-day running of S!NGS and is passionate about providing excellent music at events big and small. Whilst Sue will be your first port of call, enquiries of a specifically musical nature will be dealt with by Brooke.

SUE WIMPENEY

General Manager

Sue oversees all the administrative needs of S!NGS and has been working as a personal and administrative assistant for over 30 years. She is exceptionally organised and will ensure our part in your event runs flawlessly. Sue is also a member of S!NGS Chorus and with two sons who were music scholars at Oundle School and members of Kings College Cambridge Choir, her knowledge of and passion for music means she is the perfect addition to our team.
